

An architectural section drawing of a wall. The base is a stepped foundation. A central vertical column is supported by four horizontal ledges. The top course consists of a series of circles arranged in a staggered pattern. A small rectangular opening is shown in the left side of the wall.

A faint, horizontal watermark or stamp is visible across the page, appearing as a thin, dark line with some internal texture or noise.

